BINNU PRIMARY SCHOOL
AN INDEPENDENT PUBLIC SCHOOL

Nyinda barndi!

I really do love the drive out to Binnu this time of year! Watching the vibrant greens and yellows of the crops pop, the splashes of colourful wildflowers out everywhere you look and our little school bursting with colour and life. It continues to remind me how lucky we are at Binnu to have such a beautiful environment.

The students got the opportunity to explore even more beautiful landscapes when we went to Kalbarri on our mini-camp. From chatting about how the coastal cliffs were made over time, to the work the Nanda Rangers are doing with the Chuditch in the National Park, the camp was full of learning (and a fair amount of fishing!). Did you know that the Chuditch live up to only 5 years? The Nanda Rangers have been able to trap some around Nature's Window and are sharing all sorts of data with scientists to help track these little mammals. What exciting work being done right on our doorstep!

I'd like to pop in a little reminder before I sign off to students about keeping up their nights of reading over the school holidays. Reading at home with an adult is so important and it has really helped support the reading the students are doing at school. All those nights you log go towards some awesome prizes, as well as helping you become even more fluent readers!

I hope everyone has a relaxing and enjoyable holidays. See you all back on Tuesday 13th October for Term 4!

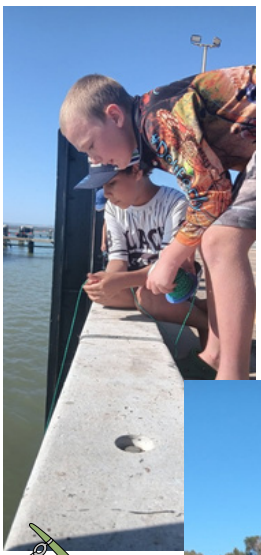
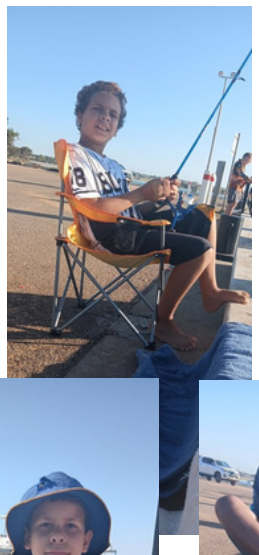
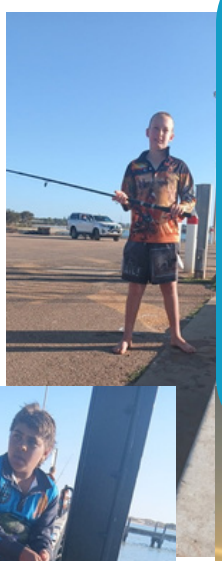
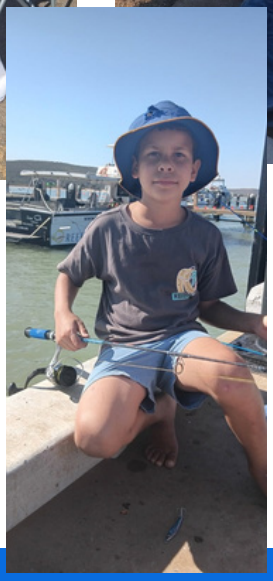
FROM ~~THE CLASSROOM~~ camp

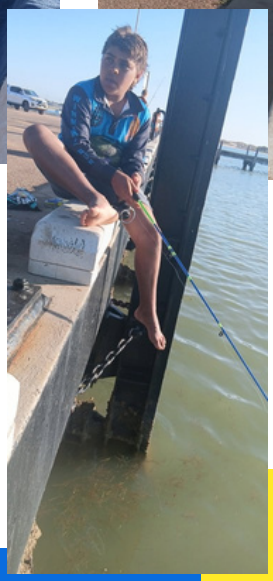
Camp got off to a great start with a visit to Kalbarri National Park, including Nature's Window and the Skywalk. We learned about Western Quoll conservation from the Nanda Rangers before ending the day with jetty fishing and a swim. A memorable first day full of learning, adventure and fun!

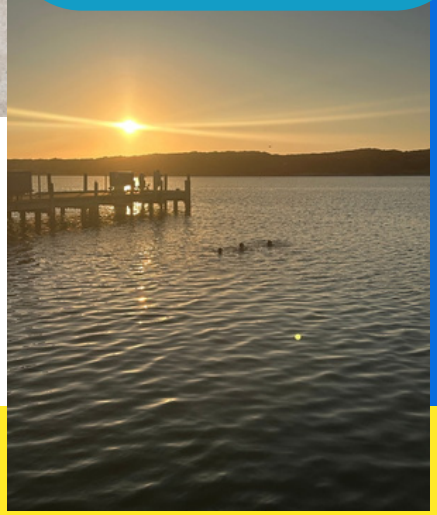


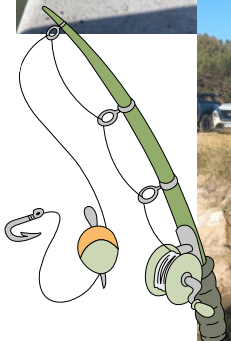










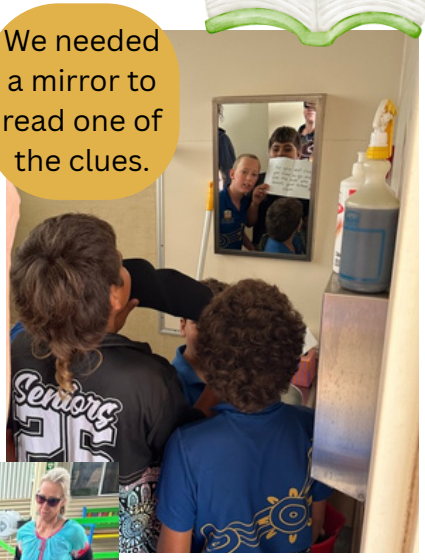


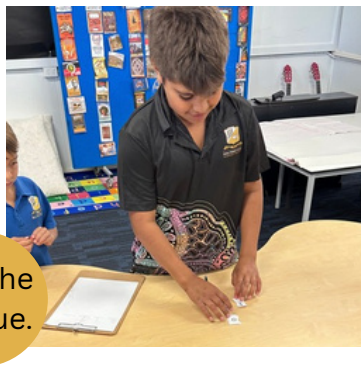
Thursday night featured a hearty spaghetti bolognese dinner, followed by plenty of laughter and friendly rivalry over games of pool and ping pong.
Friday was all about adventure as we explored the rock pools at Blue Holes in search of crabs, starfish and shells. We then headed to the Natural Bridge Lookout, where we were treated to spectacular ocean views and the chance to spot whales along the coast.

FROM THE LIBRARY

We each took turns in reading clues and helped each other when we needed some help sounding words out.

We needed a mirror to read one of the clues.





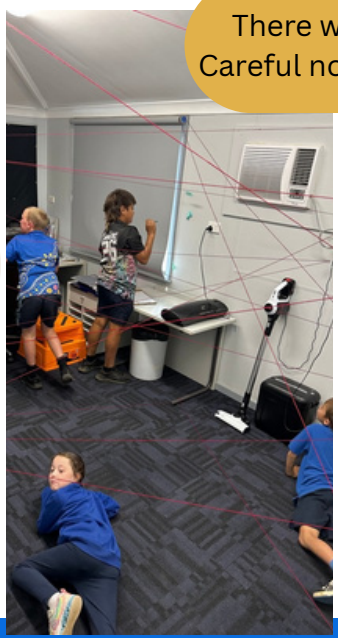
Miss Em helped us decipher the Fibonacci sequence in this clue.

SOMEONE TIED UP MISS EM AND KIDNAPPED MISS KERRIGAN!!!

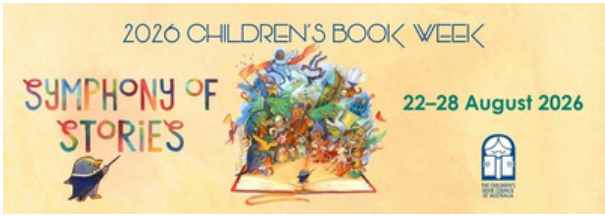
The students untied Miss Em and were left a video of Miss Kerrigan in an unknown location with a series of clues to solve in order to find her. Everyone pitched in together to read and decipher the clues left across the school grounds. Using teamwork and critical thinking skills the kids were thankfully able to find Miss Kerrigan and free her from the restraints.

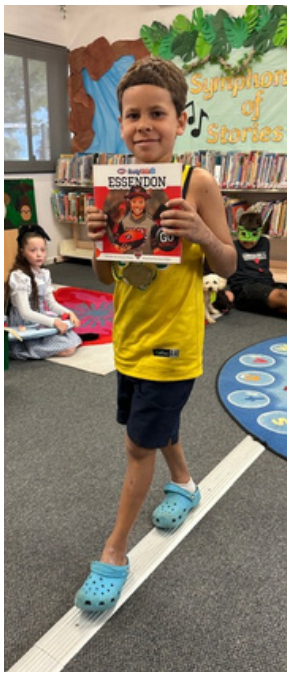
Hooray we found Miss Kerrigan!

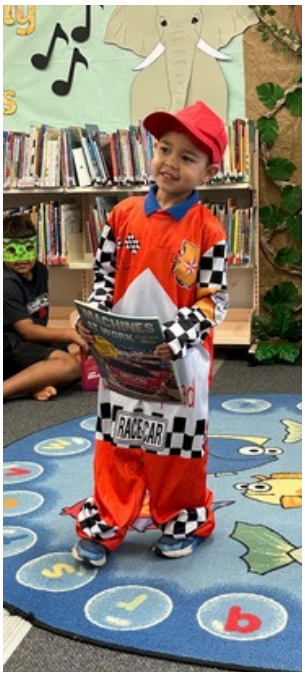
There was a Laser Room in the EA Office! Careful not to touch the lasers, they will hurt!



BOOK WEEK PARADE







Students showcased their creativity at the Book Week Parade earlier this term with an impressive array of costumes. Characters included a footy player, Alice in Wonderland, a pirate, the Ninjabread Man, a ninja, a race car driver, and an itchy bear complete with a suspicious-looking flea! Staff joined in the fun as the colourful characters from The Day the Crayons Quit. It was wonderful to see so many imaginative and clever costumes on display.
